The Navillus · Volume Nine

We dedicate this book, the result of the co-operation of every department, and representative of the talents and efforts of every student, to our principal, Mr. Herbert C. Hansen. For many years he has served both Sullivan High School and the schools of Chicago ably and devotedly, and under his administration, we are proud to claim, our school has become one of the best in the city.

FFICE

Sullivan Headquarters

Mrs. Helen Kustner.

Mrs. Margaret Brown.

Mrs. Alice McShane.

The office is the official headquarters and clearing house of Sullivan High School. Here Mr. Hansen and his able assistants supervise, direct and administer all school activities. They listen to and pass judgment on the various complaints, trials, and tribulations of teachers and students alike.

The women who do most of the work in the office are Mrs. Higgins, Mrs. Brown, and Mrs. Shapps. Mrs. Shapps recently replaced Miss Sweeney, who was here from September to February, during the fall semester. Mrs. Kustner is the school treasurer who handles the money received from all school activities and functions. She also takes care of lost book money. Capable Mrs. McShane, aside from her teaching, has the responsible and difficult position of social co-ordinator.

Each period two girls assist in the office. They are chosen by Miss Powers for their previous typing experience, recommendations of teachers, and their desire for business experience.

The office is like a governing body, catering to the promotion of the educational and the recreational needs and general welfare of its citizens, the students.

The clerks are appointed because of their experience and interests in student welfare, and their calm, efficient ways. The nucleus of the school occupies a small area in comparison to the amount of essential work it does.

Personnel and Parents

PERSONNEL DEPARTMENT

Where do YOU intend to go after you graduate from Sullivan? Whether you would like to try for a scholarship to Harvard or look for a job as a street cleaner, our personnel department will help you reach your goal. They will offer to give you psychological tests to determine your abilities, and interview you personally to determine your inclinations.

Miss Sager and Mr. Engstrom of the department also handle freshmen registration and transfer.

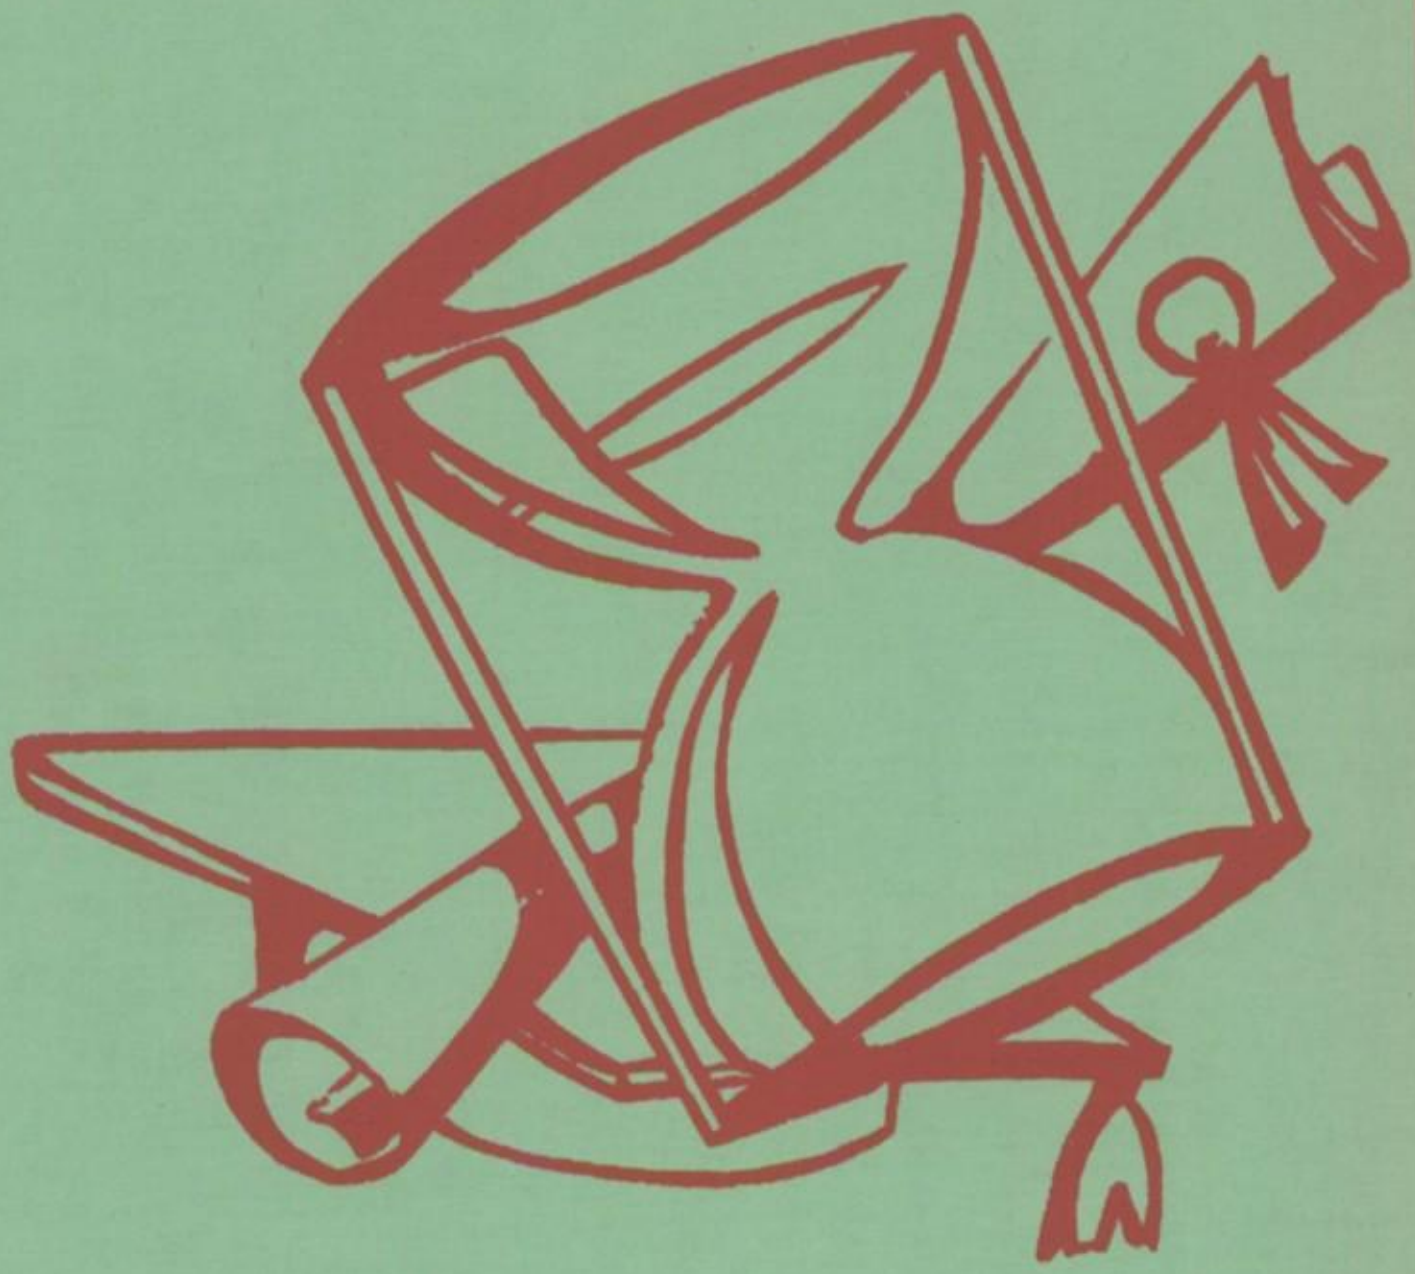
PARENTS, MEET THE TEACHERS!

The purpose of the Parent-Teachers Association is to promote closer co-operation between school, home, and community.

The Sullivan P. T. A. was established in 1933. Its present membership is three hundred twenty-five.

The group meets every week, where they discuss parent and teacher problems and offer suggestions to remedy them. Throughout the year they sponsor various activities, the proceeds of which go toward a fund for the purchase of some article of value to the school. Mrs. Stanley Rundell is president.

Members of the Parent-Teachers' Association prepare tea for the faculty.



CLASSES

Freshmen

Mr. Russell arranges a program.

For some time now, we have been looking for a green "freshie", the color of an unripe banana or a fresh cucumber, but there do not seem to be any more. Nowadays, in our modern organization, freshies are as purple as the haughtiest senior, or as rosy as the cutest soph.

Mr. Russell, the freshman sponsor, can well be proud of his latest prodigies. After a special assembly, acquainting them with all the nice, new regulations, our debutantes have taken to this old place, and a peek at the rosters of many clubs reveals an encouraging number of "shy" freshies. Truly this crop shows promise of quite a successful future in our school.

Freshies have a locker date.

Sophomores

Ah— for a sophomore! A girl with a smile of youth and innocence plus at least an elementary knowledge of the dark ways of this world, and what to do when you haven't got your homework. Or perhaps a youth with a touching, solicitious superiority over a mere freshman, and a disconcerting liking for biology and the inside of a frog's stomach.

Sophomores are a race apart. That may not have been proven anthropologically as yet, but it is a recognized fact. They have not as yet assumed the dignity of upper classmen but have already lost the bashful shyness of a newcomer.

A recipe?—A double portion of laughter, a teasponful of tolerance, and as yet, an undaunted quizzicalness. Shake well to produce —a sophomore!

Julien explains the mural in 320 to admiring sophomores.

Juniors

Hugh Wingerter, president; Marilyn Murphy, treasurer; Joanne Anderson, secretary; Alan Friedman, vice-president.

JUNIOR CLASS

The Junior Class of Sullivan has played a more important role in the school activities than ever before. In consideration of present world conditions, the Juniors have willingly foregone many of the pleasures and social events in which they participated formerly. They contributed their time, money, and energy toward buying Defense Bonds and Stamps, and toward making successful other patriotic enterprises.

However, in April the Juniors with the aid of Miss Moloney, their sponsor, presented an assembly in which the class officers discussed the value of parliamentary procedure as an aid to character building. This assembly served also to boost the Senior play, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," as well as the Junior Spring Festival Dance.

The Junior Delegation, consisting of the class officers and one delegate from each division, and under the wise sponsorship of Miss Moloney, discussed many problems vital to the student body.

There's a gentleman in Sullivan?

Seniors

FOUR B OR NOT FOUR B

Though their position is unique, still, perhaps they're lonely now. They are in a sort of in-between state, neither here nor there, but going. Next semester people will make a fuss over them too, and they will have luncheons and committees, and Miss Sheel will tell anecdotes of their youth!—but they're neglected now.

However to the rest of the school, experiencing none of the sorrows of their alleged plight, it seems that their situation is enviable. They have attained the dignity of seniors without the necessity of leaving the people and places they have known for almost four years. So, if you should happen to see a student with a proud, superior leer on one side of his face, and a sad-eyed, wistful grin on the other, you will know that it is not a schizophrene, but a 4B.

February Graduates

The graduates of this year enter into the turmoil of a changing world. The domestic and world conditions under which we spent our most formative years will never be duplicated. We entered high school in a year of peace and leave it in a year of war. We saw much history making during our four years at Sullivan, and our close acquaintance with the world today and its social and political trends will be of great benefit to us in our future activities.

You have all heard of the many disadvantages of being a mid-year student; but I am sure few of you know the advantages of being a January graduate. There is a companionship and a spirit which one does not always find in the larger classes. This spirit was very apparent at our delightful promenade, and our luncheon. Everyone enjoyed himself fully at both affairs.

All these events were merely preliminary, of course, the crowning event was the graduation itself —a triumphant finale.

The glittering gaity of a gala occasion.

Three big events were included in the social whirl of February Gertie and George Grad—the senior play, prom, and luncheon.

For the senior dramatic production, Mr. Becker chose "The Milk Way," with Alvin Getz as the shy milkman who became a prize-fighter overnight. His trainer was portrayed by Bill Malloy; his opponent in the ring, B. J. Jaeger; and the fight managers, Frank Burke and Art Schwartz. Doris King and Muriel Bowman played the feminine leads. The show literally "went to the dogs" when some puppies were called for and stole the show.

On Friday evening, January 9, boys and girls took on the appearance of men and women of the world when they entered the Sovereign Hotel for the long awaited Senior Prom. Swishing gowns, flowers, tuxes and tails, and the general air of enchantment made the evening one to remember.

The senior class luncheon, last event before graduation took place at the Georgian Hotel on Wednesday, January 28. The highlight of the afternoon was the reading of the class prophecy which provided enjoyment for all.

SENIOR DRAMA

It was a very imposing figure who dominated the June Senior Drama Class in the production "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" taken from the famous hit by Robert E. Sherwood. With the first signs of spring came signs of "ALil" attracting the curiosity of Sullivanites until finally on April 22-23 came two beautiful performances with Mr. Becker's thespians paying tribute to the great emancipator.

The lines of this immortal character in American history were given by Frank Burke, who resembled young Lincoln to perfection. Mary Todd, his wife, was portrayed by Marjorie Haas and Charlotte McGivney on alternate nights, while his real love, Ann Rutledge, was played by Charlene Feingold and Carol Simmons. In the role of Steve Douglas was Sheldon Newberger. Leon Seligson, Doris Green, Thelma Weiss, Barbara Elliott, Roslyn Adolph, Jerry Schaeffer were in the cast.

June Graduates

And so the time has come for another group of enthusiastic students to make their names in the world. The June graduating class of 1942, under the leadership of President Clark Bedrosian, Vice-president Lois Plain, Secretary Dolores Fagen, Treasurer Betty Hill, and with the helpful guidance of Miss Mabel Butler, class sponsor, has made a splendid name for itself here at Sullivan. Let us hope this high mark continues.

Early in the semester the committees started to plan the many social functions which would highlight the graduate's life. The responsible heads were Sheldon Berman, Gift; George Rice, Prom; Nancy McClellan, Luncheon; Allan Ferguson, Social; Don Lyon, Program; and Fred Meyer, Cap and Gown.

Eagerly the class awaits the senior luncheon when the friendly sound of laughter will prevail and be heard above the noise of forks and spoons; the prom when the ordinary boys and girls will become sophisticates in tuxes and flowing frocks; and the big, momentous night itself when in sweeping gown and dignified cap the student steps out on the threshold of life and pays final tribute to his home of learning for the past four years.

The senior dramatic enthusiasts also produced "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," a very fitting play of the American spirit in times like these.

"But the Raven, sitting lonely on the placid bust, spoke only

That one word, as if his soul in that one word he did outpour.

Quoth the Raven, 'Nevermore'."

Now think how much more he could have said had he taken the Sullivan four-year English course, or even the required three years of English. He could have discoursed on the greatness of literature, delivered whole passages from Hamlet, or written a business letter with a polite but formal message from the nether world. However, he probably didn't go out much in society, or perhaps he should have taken Latin, which, it is rumored, is ideal for soliloquy.

—"T'was brillig, and the slithy toves
Did gyre and gimble in the wabe;
All mimsy were the borogoves,
And the mome raths outgrabe."—

Three guesses as to what the above is. Look at it from all angles. Do you see any irregular verbs? Ah, you should know. It is neither French, nor Spanish, nor German. If you took a foreign language you'd know. You'd also know a lot about the country whose language you are studying: its people, their customs, traditions, history, and literature. Besides, there is nothing so cultured sounding as a sprinkling here and there of foreign words, and to know what they mean, though admittedly detracting from the general picturesqueness, also may have some abstract value. Good for the nerves, you know.

RADIO SCRIPT CLUB

STANDING: Kahn, Ratny, Blauner, Jarinkes, Galfield, Saperston, Klowden. SEATED: Mrs. Spooner, Schechter, Linsky, Shapiro, Blatt, Leaf.

ON THE AIR

Radio stations all over the country are looking for young writers who can turn out good radio scripts. With this in mind, Mrs. Spooner organized the Radio Script Writing Club.

Meetings of this interesting, as well as educational group are held on alternate Wednesdays, and are called to order by the club's president, Barbara Klowden.

After the minutes of the previous meeting have been reported, any member of the group may read one of his scripts. Then an informal discussion is held, and Mrs. Spooner gives suggestions which enable the club's members to write better radio scripts. Mrs. Spooner's qualifications for sponsoring this club include a Northwestern University course in radio writing.

ATTENTION! ALL THESPIANS

Did you know that the only dramatic club at Sullivan is the Club Proscenium? The club's purpose is to provide a greater understanding and clearer knowledge of the stage. When the opportunity presents itself, the club gives open performances, proceeds of which go into a fund that provides the materials greatly needed by both the club and dramatic class. There is a great demand for such a club at Sullivan.

Thelma Weiss, club president, stated that with the cooperation of both students and faculty, the club can become one of the most important factors at Sullivan.

Under the able sponsorship of Miss Kovitz and direction of Thelma Weiss, president, the club hopes this will be its red letter year.

SEATED: Kahn, Marsh, Nathan, Adams.

DEBATING CLUB

Passing by room 210 on a Tuesday afternoon you will find the "intellects" of Sullivan debating questions of vital importance. Now as never before it is of great interest to the students to thoroughly discuss the events taking place, as it will be the Young America who pulls the United States out after this devastating war.

Due to our "freedom of speech" the students are able, under Miss Nelson's direction, to bring together their different opinions and in this manner increase their knowledge.

The Debating Club first receives pointers from Miss Nelson on correct debate procedure and then takes up the discussion of various topics. Many questions are given a thorough going over.

INTELLECTUALS

Sullivan's youngest organization, the Intellectuals, feel they are filling a long-standing vacuum in Sullivan's otherwise extensive curriculum. The boys base their activity on the theory that the classical subjects may more readily be taught from the "social" angle. Started as a joke, the organization would probably have developed into a big thing, if some members hadn't graduated. All members must agree to expend all efforts in the "study of philosophy and philosophers, that branch of literature termed classical, and the promulgation of culture in general." In other words, the Intellectuals wish to prove the absolute superiority of the mental gymnast to the athlete.

Library

OVERDUE

"But I'm sure it's exactly two weeks," are words that haunt the ever-patient ears of Miss Kelly, our school librarian.

Thanks are due Miss Kelly and her competent staff for the help they have given us in bringing to light even the most obscure book —usually for the most obscure reason. Miss Kelly may be found in the library from 7:30 to 4:00—a strenuous day, indeed. The many books, all in excellent condition, are always available for aid in our unquenchable thirst for knowledge. Reference books, to be used in school only, may always be found waiting for us to open them and absorb the magical knowledge contained therein. The girls who act as junior librarians during their study periods, are initiated into the secret sanctum (standing behind that all-powerful desk — issuing and checking in books) by Miss Levinson, who is Miss Kelly's assistant. The members of the secret sanctum are afforded the great honor of bearing A SERVICE PASS while delivering library slips to our study hall teachers.

The "four freedoms" as enunciated by President Roosevelt serve as the inspiration for the commencement theme of "American Freedom," which will be outlined by Jacqueline Morrell, former feature editor of the Sentinel. "Freedom of Worship" will be discussed by the Navillus editor, Harvey Arkin; Richard Yates, commanding officer of the R. O. T. MR. RESEK PROMOTED

Mr. E. Resek, a former Sullivan chemistry teacher, has been promoted to the rank of major in the army. He is now stationed at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Illinois.

Navillus Explains Serigraphy Puzzle

Have you been wondering what this "serigraphy" is that everybody is talking about? Unusual interest has been evidenced by the student body as to the nature of this phenomenon and its relationship to the new 1942 Navillus. To the layman it is known as the silk screen process. Though this process has been used extensively in the commercial field, dependable sources state that no other school yearbook has exploited its attractive possibilities.

Artist Anthony Velonis, who began working with silk screen on a W.P.A. project, is credited for its present use. Mr. Becker is responsible for its place in this year's Navillus.

Drawings by Art Staff

The original drawings for the seven division pages (those pages which divide the sections of the book) were made by Renee Davidson of the Navillus art staff. Lettering was added by Lucille Nobler. From the original drawing Shirley Jane Burnett cut a stencil on profilm, which in turn was covered with silk and stretched on a frame made by Jack Farrell.

The squeegeeing of a special process paint through the silk resulted in a beautiful color print.

The operators of this process, Vivian Benjamin, Betty Lou Chritzman, Gloria Muriel Gould, Arnold Stromberg, and their assistants, Gloria June Keys, Eleanor Berlow, and Doris Watt have become so skillful that they produce about some 160 copies each day. Altogether some 11,000 are needed for the 1,500 copies of the Navillus. They have also produced the "Serigraphy! The Navillus has it," posters which can be seen in various places throughout the building.

Bill Stanton New Managing Editor

In the reorganization of the Sentinel staff for the new semester, Bill Stanton has become the Managing editor and Beverly DeWitt has taken over the job of chairman of the Editorial board.

Stanton, who recently was elected president of the Senate, was in charge of the sports page last semester. Miss DeWitt was assistant Editorial editor, and is now social chairman of the Senate.

Sheldon Newberger continues as News editor with Earle Lifschutz as his assistant. Dolores Fagen and Robert Marsh are Feature and Contributing editors respectively. Jim Ullman is the new sports chief.

Copy editors are Lorraine Jones, Robert Nelson, and Kilburn Visk, with Dan Scheps remaining as photographer and Art Sallander as staff artist.

In the business department, Susan Schoen has been promoted to the position of Business manager with Vera Berg taking over her old job of Circulation manager. Alice Wright is the new assistant Circulation manager and Jacqueline Silcroft continues as head of the advertising department.

Assistants in the business department are Seymour Greenberg, Eleanor Jannsen, Betty McClellan, Daniel Mittman, Allen Noyes and Louise Visk.

SENTINEL News Service

For the first time in the history of the Sentinel, a course intended primarily for freshmen and sophomores, but available also to juniors and seniors will begin tomorrow afternoon in 228.

All students who are interested in writing, but find it impossible to add journalism to their program are invited to join. The organization will meet once every two weeks under the direction of the editors of the Sentinel and meetings will be devoted to a study of different phases of writing for the Sentinel. Students taking this course will comprise the Sullivan Sentinel News Service.

AWARD SENTINEL KEYS TO GRADUATING EDITORS

Themis Askounis, Jacqueline Morrell, and Elaine Lazar, for their services as editors of the Sentinel, have been awarded three gold and blue pendants for meritorious service.

Themis, executive editor, and Elaine, editorial editor, each received the awards after one year of Sentinel duty.

Jacqueline has spent five semesters on the staff in the positions of advertising manager, assistant feature editor, and feature editor.

SENTINEL SALES SET NEW RECORD

TO THE EDITOR

Of Stamps and Services

Dear Editor:

As high school students, we too can do our share in the defense program. At several other schools throughout the city, campaigns are being planned and contests held in order to sell defense stamps and bonds during division periods. Besides this, containers are placed all around the building where the students may throw their waste paper. Shows and entertainments are held to raise more paper, the admission being old magazines and newspapers.

Efforts are being made to start such a drive here at Sullivan. I'm sure that the student body will readily accept the plan and eagerly assist in the program. Let it be said that we are doing our part.

Estelle Holleb

Service in Her Blood

Dear Editor:

Since I've been in school, I've been interested in the Sullivan Service Organization, but I, like many others, still know nothing about it. If you would be able to enlighten all of us as to the details of the organization as well as the requirements for entrance, it would be appreciated.

Arleen Langhaus, 4B.

Dear Arleen:

The Sullivan Service Organization consists of students who give time to the school for which no academic credit is received. These pupils are awarded service points in proportion to the time spent and the value of the work done.

All those belonging to the Rangers, Stage Crew, Hall Marshals, Lunch Guards, Reader, Navillus, Sentinel, the library assistants, and the office girls are part of the service organization. The requirements for admittance to the various groups naturally differ. If interested in becoming a part of any of these groups, see the sponsor.

Magicians' Dilemma

Dear Editor:

Not long ago an article appeared in this paper suggesting the formation of a club where all interested in the ageless and fascinating art of magic might gather for the purpose of expending their knowledge of legerdemain. Certainly a capital idea! What happened to it! Now that clubs will again be in full swing why not add this unique idea to the roster of spare time enjoyment?

Omar Howard, 3A

Crowd Confuses Freshie

Dear Editor:

I have just entered Sullivan and in the short time I have been here I have come to the conclusion that it is swell.

The only thing that leaves me quite breathless is the crowded halls. Whenever I am in a hurry I always run into a crowd—all going the other way!

Despite this I am having a grand time at Sullivan.

Just a "poor 'lil' freshie."

Joan Gansberg

The New Order

Dear Editor:

I am all for starting a new campaign, and being of the opinion that the Sentinel would have the influence to swing it, I decided to present my suggestion to you.

One of the greatest problems a high school has to face is to make its freshmen and transferring students feel right at home. Why not have a committee to welcome new students, tell them about the things the school has to offer, interest them in clubs, tell them how they can get on committees, the newspaper, etc. Knowing what lies ahead of them, they will have a little more self-confidence and thus make friends more easily and quickly.

Muriel Bowman, 4A

Man in the Hall

What do you think of the proposal to make R.O.T.C. training compulsory for high school boys?

Mrs. McShane—I would not approve. It savors of Fascism and Hitlerism. If we participate in the present war and win it, we would not want continued militarism.

Peter Nixon, 3A—With ample facilities, I think it's swell. Subordination is a hard thing to be used to; why not learn it in high school instead of out in the world?

Alice Wright, 4B—I would like to see all the uniforms. O boy!

Monroe Mendelsohn, 3A—No! A person taking R.O.T.C. against his will would not take seriously the discipline imposed upon him, and all benefits of the training would be lost.

Mr. Golden—A very good idea. Boys nowadays are too soft. They need the discipline of the R.O.T.C. Muriel Bowman, 4A—It should be made compulsory and at the same time less noisy under our classroom windows.

Jay Meyers, 4A—You would penalize those boys who desire taking training by enrolling those who do not, as this would lower the morale necessary to progress.

Lt. Rollin Etter, 4A—I think that it is very good because the R.O.T.C. is an education in itself with the many components of training.

Mrs. Van Ness—No, as it should be a privilege to be a member of the R.O.T.C. and be permitted to wear the U. S. uniform.

Eli Katz, 3A—As R.O.T.C. training was compulsory during World War I, I believe that such an idea can do no harm and can aid the cause of national defense today.

Rita Omensky, 1B—No, because I think all the boys have different ideas about the R.O.T.C. and should make their own decision about joining it.

Bill Stanton, 4B—I think it's a good idea because if those boys are ever called by the army, there will not be such a waste of time on military training.

Swivel Chair

By Beverly DeWitt

My first reaction to December 7 was melodramatic, emotional, and typically adolescent. I wouldn't—no, I couldn't—go to college and quietly study ancient archives while modern history was being written in blood so close to home. At this theatrical thought I had visions of myself driving an ambulance overseas, courageously protecting the sick and wounded on some foreign front, or perhaps obtaining Axis military secrets as a second Mata Hari.

Truthfully, realistically, I wasn't being patriotic. I was dreaming in the rosy reverie of adventure, audacity, and swift action. Harmless enough, these youthful yearnings, in a time of peace and plenty; but war . . . THIS WAR . . .

Paper shortage, CONSERVATION, priorities on rubber, tin, and aluminum; DEFENSE STAMPS AND BONDS, trained nurses at a premium, INDUSTRIES ONLY WORKING AT ONE-THIRD OF CAPACITY, air-raid wardens needed. Slowly the jigsaw puzzle of headlines began to crystallize. At first glance they had appeared commonplace and unexciting beside blacker, bolder type: Manila, Wake, Pearl Harbor.

Headlines Are Unhashed

On closer inspection their importance leaped into perspective. Surely soldiers, sailors, and marines are needed. But so are volunteer nurses, ambulance drivers, air-raid wardens, bandage rollers, messengers, USO workers, and many others.

Talking it over with my friends, pooling our information and ideas, we discovered that as high school students we might aid our country in many of those activities. Already Dolores had volunteered as a messenger, Lee and Sally were knitting for the Red Cross and British War Relief. I was hoping to take a volunteer nurse's training course; as a Girl Scout my younger sister had offered her services to the air-raid warden of our block.

Peter and Bob were taking night courses to teach for technical defense jobs, Norman was going to Northwestern's naval school. Viv had offered her services as a typist, and Lucille and Bernice were working for the USO.

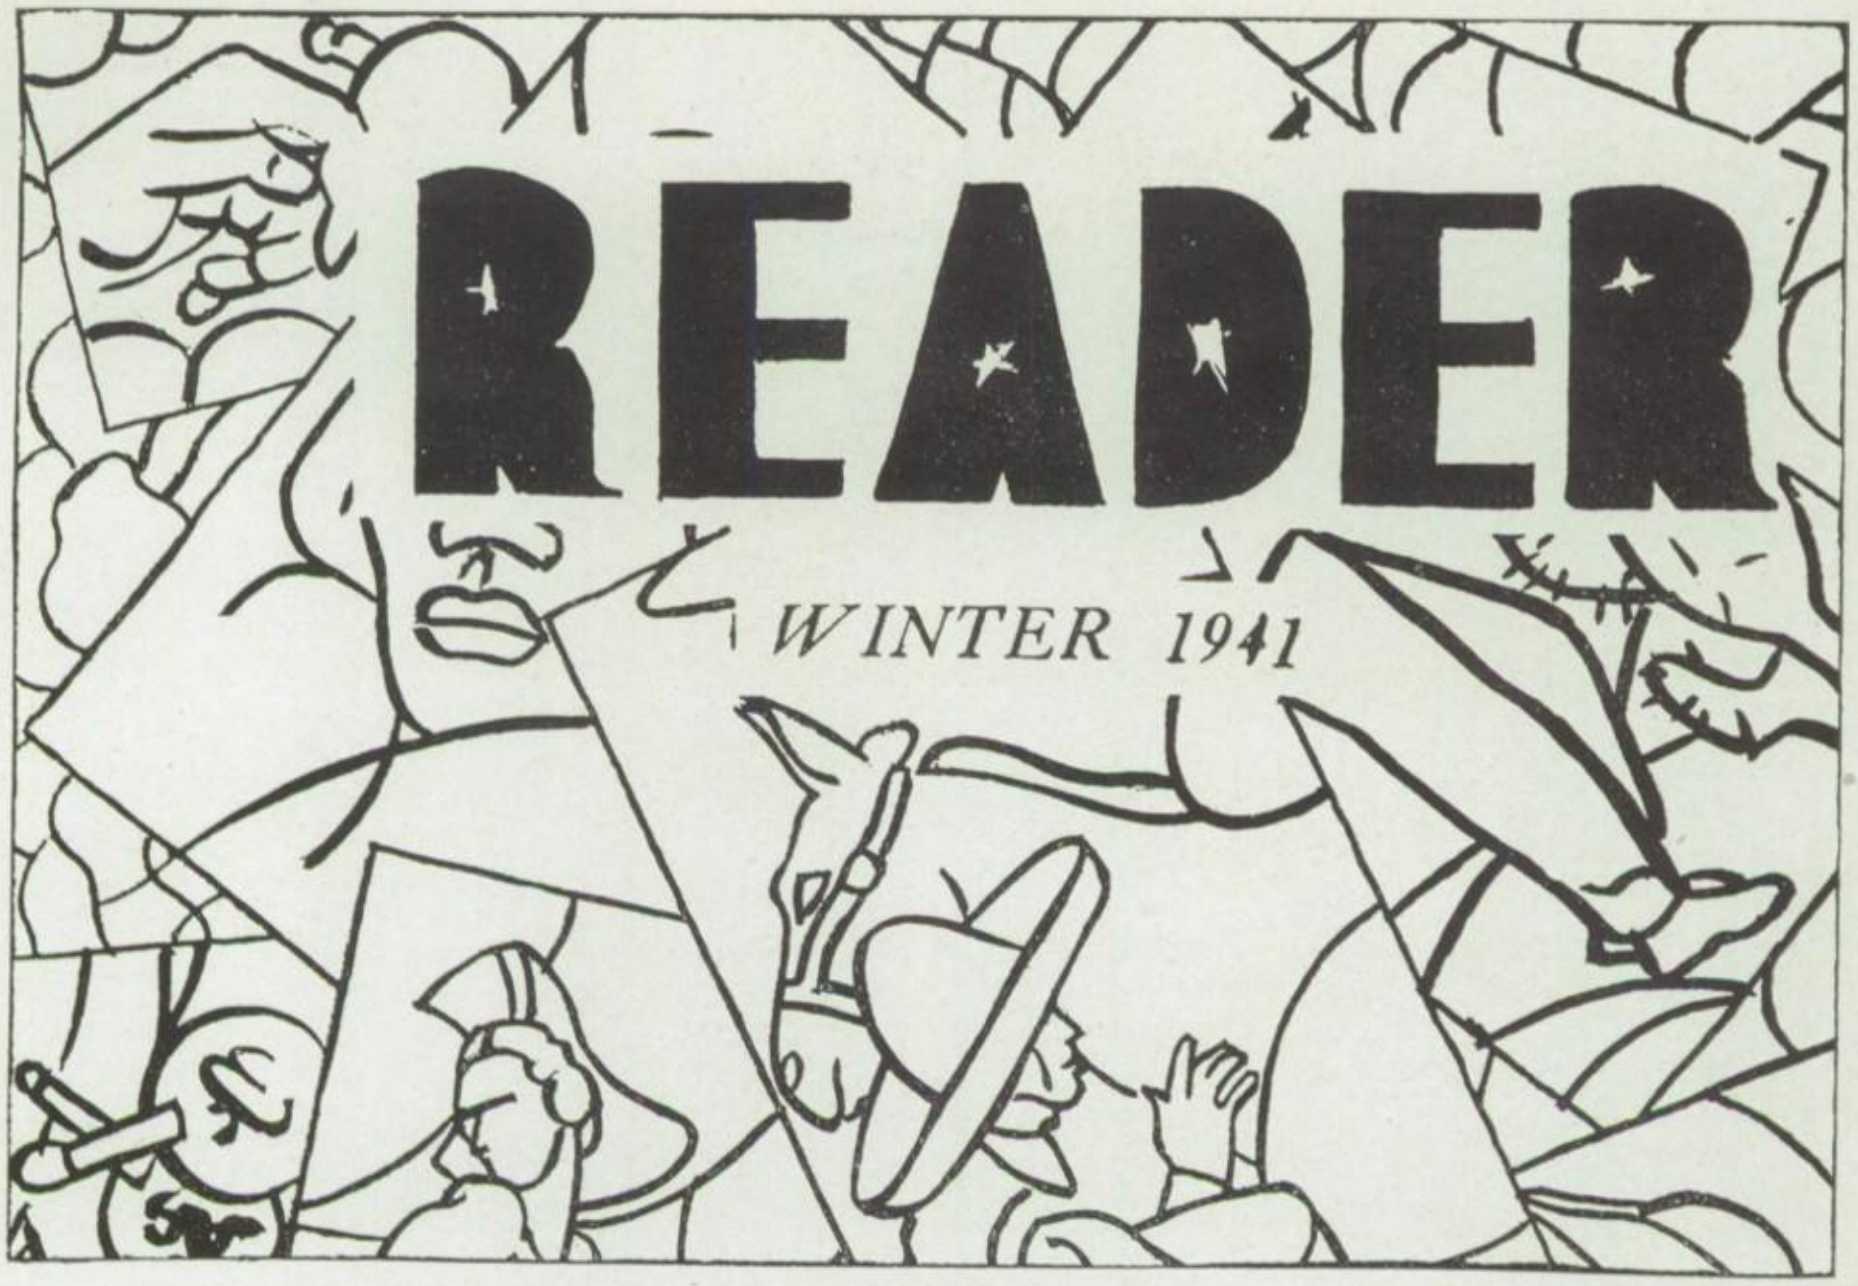
Pat Solves Puzzle

When I remembered the letter I had received from Pat in England, just after the fall of France, the last piece fell into place and my puzzle was solved.

"It's hard to go back to school with so much war work to be done," she had written. "But the government has asked that we carry on as usual. To learn, to be prepared . . ."

Business as usual for Great Britain. My mind amended that. In the United States, not business as usual, but better business than usual. Business: going to school, doing homework and the supper dishes, listening to Bob Hope, and then we must do something plus.

For some it will be conducting air-raid drills at school, others will volunteer to service organizations, and many more of us will do our parts simply by buying defense stamps and bonds, conserving without complaining, wearing our clothes for a longer time. And doing our homework!



EL LIBRO DE SULLIVAN

Somerset Maugham may not be hiding in the shadows of Sullivan's corridors but Lorraine Jones and Beverly De Witt can be found in Room 230 every fall reading the manuscripts of all the Sullivan Maughams who will appear in print in the Reader. Every year with Santa Claus and holly wreaths comes our literary magazine, The READER. A youngster among Sullivan's publications, it has developed with each issue into a first rate magazine. Mr. Croghan is the father of this READER which is designed to give the poets, short story writers, and artists a chance to display their talents in a school publication.

The co-editors of the 1941 READER were Misses De Witt and Jones. This last edition was dedicated to our South American neighbors and from cover to cover it was truly "Espanol." If it didn't cement Pan-American solidarity, it certainly was a fine example of our good neighbor policy.

"A Book of Verses underneath the Bough,
A Bottle of Coca-Cola, a Hamburger, and Thou
Beside me signing in the Wilderness—"

"Thou wert singing of layouts, splendid in originality and impossibility; thou wert murmuring of a design for a cover, a line for a write-up, or sweetly imparting a new technique for selling an ad. Thus the new NAVILLUS was born, for if thou art the clear voice of inspiration, I am the genie of hard work, which alone can accomplish all."

Now when we, the staff, look through this, our creation, we remember little incidents of the process, the time when we peeled and ate five green apples that were lying about before we thought of a layout for a club page, and our faces when we found out what we had done; or the pleasant remembrance of how that man told us to come back five times and then didn't give us an ad; the times we wondered if we'd go over that sales quota; and we are proud, not of every bit I did, every sketch I made, but of the whole book, the product of our imagination, our planning, and our hard work.

Said the finicky freshman to the superior sophomore. "Have you really dissected a frog?" At which the sophomore flicked an imaginary frogsleg off his imaginary lapel and replied. "Of course. Our biology department is nothing if not thorough. We have earthworms and grasshoppers, too, on the menu in season." Whereupon the freshie hastily retired and was thankful for general science—which introduces most aspiring scientists, and practically everyone else as well, to the intricacies of physics, biology, and chemistry.

When the amoebae begin to tire you, and the chromosomes to swim before your eyes, you may advance to atomic weights, assorted vibrations, or the inside story about heat, to emerge prepared to live in a world where science occupies an increasingly important part.

"WHAT MAKES IT TICK"

"You can move now," said the camera man after making you sit a half hour until he adjusted his camera to snap the picture. But those days have gone forever and have given way to the "snap-before-you-know-it" candid camera. It is in order to better understand exactly "what makes the candid camera tick" that the Camera Club meets weekly on Wednesday under the sponsorship of Miss Edith Benjamin.

The activities of the Camera Club are not limited to a comprehensive study of the camera but include taking field trips for studying the laboratories of places as the Chicago University, making requested slides for the school, and sponsoring successful contests like the one to pick the most photogenic girl in Sullivan.

CAME THE DAWN

Surrounded by test tubes, Bunson burners and gasses, a small group of pre-occupied students are working. A terrific explosion shatters the silence. With a shout of triumph, the students observe their handiwork. The secrets of Artificial Lighting are secrets no longer. The hard working future master minds of chemistry have unravelled its mysteries.

Under the expert supervision first of Mr. Powers and then of Mr. Youmans, the Chemistry Club conducts many interesting experiments, the latest of which is Artificial Lighting. Meetings are held every Wednesday afternoon, at 3:00, in Room 328. Presiding officers are Donald Arenson, president; Alvin Getz, vice-president; Arlene Langhaus, treasurer; Jacqueline Glessner, secretary. The club has many students who have not taken Chemistry but who are interested.

THE SHORTEST DISTANCE

The Short Cut Club has been organized for the purpose of teaching students short cuts in mathematics. The members started out by learning short cuts in simple arithmetic, but have recently progressed to the mastering of logarithms.

The club meets every other Tuesday. It usually has a large attendance, due to the interest of the students in simplifying lengthy mathematical processes, making the methods of solution in difficult problems both easier and quicker.

Miss Lucie Allen, of the mathematics department, is the sponsor. Miss Allen's teachings help to improve the reasoning power of each student.

The only officer of the club is Betty Cannady, president.

SLIDE RULE FOR DEFENSE

The slide rule club under the capable direction of Mrs. Constance Van Ness, is now more important than ever before. Those pupils interested in math and willing to devote their time in learning how to run a slide rule, are not only helping themselves but are learning to aid their country in national defense.

The club meets every Wednesday in Room 209, where the pupils become proficient in working difficult problems. Each week from one to twenty-five problems are worked, depending upon how hard the problems are. The group is reorganized every semester and new officers are elected. At present, they are: Fred Yonkers, president; Lawrence Neikrug, vice-president; Robert Koch, treasurer, and Irving Gould, secretary.

QUIET! HAMS AT WORK!

"Dit! dah! dah! dit!" is the curious shrill tone that emits from Room 326 every Thursday. It is the Ham Radio Club practicing the international code. The club is seated in classroom order, the president, J. Don behind the teacher's desk, his fist pounding on the radio telegraph key. He sends from a copy of "Amateur Radio Handbook," so that members receive technical instruction while learning the code.

The members take turns sending on the key connected to a code practice oscillator and loud speaker. Later the club hears lectures by fellow members. A discussion follows in which members may ask questions or add information. The club's purpose is to give members advice on how to learn the required knowledge for final license examination.

SCALPEL! SUTURE! AH!

The air is heavy with anticipation. A delicate operation is about to be performed. The patient lies on the tray. What? That doesn't sound right, does it? But it is—you see, the patient is a grasshopper. The operation to be performed is a dissection of the muscular structure of an insect, and the grasshopper is a perfect specimen.

The surgeons and physicians of the future gather every other Wednesday at 3:00 o'clock to peer into their microscopes to study the characteristics of man's tiny enemies to distinguish the harmless from the dangerous and deadly.

This club is supervised by Mrs. Esther Dorman whose knowledge of biology is deep-rooted.

Officers of this club are: Marvin Spira, president, Marvin Loeb, vice-president; Lenore Isan, secretary and treasurer.

Social Science

Social Science Department

Mr. Kahn fosters the Pan-American spirit.

CELIA, THE SOCIAL SCIENCE SAVANT

She thought she liked Napoleon. Something about him fascinated her. She took a full history course including World history when she was a freshman, Modern European History when a junior, and United States History when a senior. Then she found out why. Napoleon wore bright buttons. That is only one of the many things she learned at Sullivan, of course, but had she cared to know whether Rostov is a city or a general or both she could have studied commercial geography. For her final project in civics she did patiently find out what happens to a bill in Congress and was subsequently one of the only persons to know.

When our heroine was puzzled as to what life work she should donate her energies, she took "careers" and after it was decided that due to her fondness for buttons she would enter the importing business, she was duly grateful for the commercial law and economics which she had somehow managed to squeeze into her program.

However, any student derives much enjoyment and pleasure from even one of these subjects, and proof of their popularity is found in the high enrollment.

THE SENATE

The Senate is the principal organization of Sullivan. It is through the Senate that the students speak, for this organization is run democratically under the experienced sponsorship of Mrs. Alice McShane.

A senator and an alternate are chosen from each division room on the basis of their scholastic and social records. The senator votes on any issue according to the wishes of his division. In this way every Sullivanite has a voice in his government.

School clubs, dances, and other activities are sponsored by the Senate. Plans are now being made to send two senators to the National Convention at Washington, D. C.

The Senator's Qualifications Committee has been appointed to investigate absentees and late arrivals of the Senate. The senator should attend every meeting, for if he is absent three times he appears before the Committee. If he cannot give a satisfactory excuse he is discharged from the Senate and he is not allowed to become a member again.

A new plan this year is the holding of meetings during the ninth period so that more time can be given to important matters. The Senate has changed its original Constitution and also has put into effect a new stairway system which relieved the congestion of the stairways and halls.

Newly elected officers are: Bill Stanton, president; Jerome Don, vice-president; Dolores Fagen, secretary; Fred Strauss, treasurer; and Beverly DeWitt, social chairman.

THE CIVIC FORUM

"Is Japan a Menace to the United States?" "Which Is More Important, to Defeat Hitler or to Keep Out of the War?" "What Is Youths' Role in Wartime?" As the fast flow of news changes so do the topics which are discussed by Sullivan's Civic Forum. The members of this informative and entertaining club pride themselves upon being acquainted with the world situation. Therefore, the Civic Forum is devoted to current topics of interest from Hitler's Russian defeats to the improvement of the Senate.

At each meeting two students give their views on a subject chosen by the Editorial Board. A vigorous discussion follows, with all members participating. Mr. Hansen, Jr., sponsors this popular Sullivan organization.

LUNCH GUARDS

The lunch room is the most popular room in Sullivan High School. Here the students refresh and replenish themselves during one of the four lunch periods throughout the day.

There are several guards for each lunch period who see that the students carry out the lunch room regulations. At the head of the guards are period captains. Mylon Jastrow is captain of the guards of the first and third period lunches; Donald Mack, of the second; Bill Axsmith, of the fourth. Mr. Jack Kahn is at the head of the lunch guards and captains.

Mrs. Eleanor Wagner is in charge of the lunch room. She plans the menu, does the ordering, and supervises the kitchen. Mrs. Gertrude Bollinger is the chief cook.

Marshals

"—Five, six, seven, eight, whom do we appreciate?" Our efficient, reliable hall marshals, the guardians of our hall, lockers, and honor! The hall marshal system is a required organization in all high schools, and one of the oldest establishments in Sullivan. The organization was originally formed by the Senate, and so was under the sponsorship of Mrs. McShane. Now, however, Mr. Mishkin heads the group which is responsible for the protection of student, faculty, and Board of Education property; the regulation of traffic in the corridors; and maintenance of a quiet, orderly atmosphere during class periods. It may be duly accredited with the cleanliness of the corridors, the elimination of unnecessary noise, the helpful guidance of bewildered visitors and "freshies" to their destinations.

The members of this select organization are particularly capable and trustworthy. Marshals are chosen each semester by the former captain of the group. The choices are made on the recommendations of teachers, which are based on the student's merit, grades, and service.

There are eight captains, each representing a period. Jay Meyers was captain-adjutant and Rollin Etter possessed the highest office of major during the first semester.

The marshals are reverting this year to girl guards. Girl marshals were last seen in Sullivan three years ago, but have returned to keep vigil at posts this year.

All work and no play makes a hall marshal a dull boy, so the organization conducts numerous parties during the year, exclusively for members. Hall marshals wishing to be admitted must show passes proving their membership!

ROGERS RANGERS

Devoting their entire time to the aid of the administration of the school, the Rangers have built a service organization that is held in high esteem by their teachers and fellow students. This organization has the distinction of being the only one of its kind in the country and has been functioning since the earliest days of Sullivan. It was originated by Mr. A. C. (Pop) Rogers and he has been its sponsor ever since.

The qualifications a student must have are rigid and therefore the caliber of the organization is high. A scholastic standing of "E" or above is required and every member must go through a probation period before he is accepted into the Rangers. It is a test of the candidates' character, dependability and personality.

Bob Jones was elected Chief and Phil King Assistant Chief of the fall semester. Harris Cohn was Honorary Ranger.

In the spring semester Phil King and Don Lyon were elected Chief and Assistant Chief respectively.

AT YOUR OWN RISK!

Don't get scared! It's really not that bad. The Stage Crew is an organization for enjoyment, excitement, and practical experience. For experience, there are varied fields; the projectors, the spot-lights, the major switchboard, the public-address system, slide projector, the stage, and the scenery. There is always excitement on the stage. Lights in magic-like manner change in brilliance, color, and position; curtains swing away; new scenery is set up with a constant barking of new orders; someone is always yelling "feed back" to tell the lad working the P. A. that he has too much volume or that the spot is making fantastic figures on the curtains causing everyone to stare momentarily. But even with these outward appearances of confusion, everything is really accompanied with the least of noise and the most of speed. As for the enjoyment, there are the dances, and the radio in 324. But what the boys really enjoy is to do a good job in a show, then go out in a group singing, full of joviality, to the soda fountain to talk over their good work and good times with the Stage Crew.

ALL ABOARD!—

It is not necessary for one to actually board a train in order to travel; the members of the Travel Club accomplish this feat without leaving Room 226 the alternate Wednesdays of meetings. Today to Alaska, tomorrow Florida (depending on the weather), these lucky ones are enthralled by motion pictures or talks making useless the bother and struggle of packing in order to enjoy the pleasures and oddities of other lands. These meetings are most popular due to the attractions of members of our faculty who often delight the club with their talks.

Not the least of the enticements held out by the Travel Club under the sponsorship of Mr. Rogers is the well-known and patronized trip to the nation's capital each spring vacation.

Are the Street Cleaners pining away for a valuable assistant like you? Is the operatic stage going to ruin because you aren't there to sing Tannhauser? Is some woman being sued because you aren't the brilliant lawyer for the defense? You don't know. You don't know what you want to be because you have never taken Careers!

The Careers Class, sponsored by Mr. Jack Kahn and Mr. Stanley Engstrom is composed of innocent or bewildered students who wish to explore the jungles of vocations to find one suited to themselves. The class meets five times a week and is guaranteed to find a vocation for man or beast. Come up and visit the Careers class some time. Who knows? You may become president.

THE STUDENT UNION

"Yeah, Sullivan! Yeah, Sullivan! rah-rah-rah-rah-rah-rah-rah-Yeah, Sullivan!" When you see and hear those snappy Sullivan cheer-leaders out on the gridiron or in the gymnasium leading the Team to victory, you marvel at their pep and splendid school spirit. But the cheer-leaders are members of the Student Union, an organization with one of the largest memberships in Sullivan.

The purpose of the Student Union is to stimulate interest and activity in school life. The club firmly believes that all pupils should be interested in school politics, social activities, and the success of the teams. Its members are students who are patriotic and loyal in supporting their team and school.

This year the Student Union sponsored many dances and various other social gatherings in addition to the awarding of letters to Sullivan's athletic heroes. Through the collection of dues paid by the members, the club provided handsome orange and blue sweaters for the cheer-leaders.

Last semester's officers were: Lorraine Pacine, president; Donald Kanter, vice-president, Marilyn Winograd, secretary, and Dorothy Cherney, treasurer.

The Student Union has gone through a series of adjustments since the departure of its original sponsor, Miss Schaeffer, but now, under the fine guidance of Mrs. Gregg it continues to be an important factor in Sullivan school life. More power to Sullivan school life. More power to Sullivan and the Student Union!

A PENNY SAVED IS . . .

I bet you don't know the color of the stamp on certified meats nor the plight of a wilted lettuce leaf before it becomes a background for your slice of tomato. If you don't, your education is indeed lacking in the science of production and distribution of wealth, commonly known as economics. There are some people who know about such things; really, there is nothing unique about a live economic student. In fact there are some who like it so much they meet in the wee hours of the morning to discuss such complicated things as the National Debt.

The subject becomes quite interesting with a sponsor like Mr. Kahn and the prospect of a field trip each month. The members of the Economics Club visit a large factory or corporation at least once a month and find out the why's and wherefore's of production right in the factories. The club has become popular among the seniors and from a few members with a vision to acquaint Sullivan students to the economics world, Mr. Kahn has built one of the largest clubs in the school.

The brave members meet every Wednesday before (mind you, before) school in room 136 where such things as salaries, wages, and commodities are torn apart and put together again. Davia Geliebter was president of the organization and Roslyn Katzenberg held the secretarial position in the fall. Anyone is a welcome member of the club, so drop in some morning, you might learn how to stretch your allowance to last for seven whole says!

Do YOU want to express yourself? Is there some hidden streak of your nature you want to develop? Have you ever felt an uncomfortable desire to mix purple and green, or to dress someone in scarlet and electric blue?—you know, the kind that swims. Well, you can take special arts; not that that type of experiment is generally recommended for class use, but you can try, and sometimes get a startling reaction.

One year of art and one year of music is required; after that you're on your own. Sullivan may not wish to assume the responsibility, though the fact that there are students who do go on, to take home arts, mechanical drawing, print shop, or any other arts course is proven by the many scholarships won each year by frequenters of Sullivan's classrooms.

MUSIC FOR PLEASURE

The Symphonic Choir of Sullivan High, under the direction of Miss Winifred Sheel, is the largest organization in the school. It was entered in the North Side music contest last semester, which was held at Lane High School, and emerged with the honorable rating of "Excellent."

During third period one may hear the sound of popular classics. Although a great deal of time is taken up by practice for shows, there is some left over so that the students may put on private shows for their own entertainment.

The choir participates in many school activities. It often appears at assemblies, school productions, and on P. T. A. programs. At the beginning of this semester, it was busy planning a broadcast for the "Citizens of Tomorrow" program on station WGN. Fifty-five of the best voices were selected from the choir to appear on the program.

Music

Please Note!

Two teachers in Sullivan High School's music department are Miss Teresa Sloan and Miss Helen Ford. Under the direction of Miss Sloan comes the Boys' Glee Club, and to Miss Ford falls the task of supervising the Girls' Glee Club.

The students are lavish in their praise of these two fine teachers, probably because of the way in which the latter present the work to the students. They gain much enjoyment from it and are very enthusiastic about the choruses.

The Boys' Glee Club is a group of male students who possess good singing voices and who are interested in choral work.

There are twenty-five members in the chorus, all of whom are very much interested in their work. The group meets second period daily. Their repetoire consists of a wide range of musical selections, going all the way from opera and other classical works to modern versions of torch and swing. The boys also engage in A Capella singing.

This chorus appears occasionally at school assemblies, and entertains often at special shows.

Music is well said to be the speech of angels.

The Girls' Glee Club is under Miss Ford's direction. There are eighty voices in this chorus, and all are picked by her personally. Each girl is required to pass a voice test, so it is evident that all voices in the Glee Club are excellent.

The Girls' Glee Club also practices during second period. The members sing semi-classical music, and sing both A Capella and with accompaniment. This group is heard at senior plays, school programs and annually, at the National Honor Society assembly.

The officers of the Girls' Glee Club are: Etoile Lasseter, president; Patricia Pitsch, vice-president; Mary Harbor, secretary, and Elizabeth Henry, treasurer.

The Philharmonic Choir, which is directed by Miss Sheel, is a division of the Symphonic Choir. The best voices of the latter compose this Philharmonic group. These students appear where fewer singers are needed and compose a choice group of blended voices.

MUSIC MAKERS

The orchestra of Sullivan High School is a group the school can well be proud of. Last May when it entered the City Orchestra Contest, it received the rating of "Excellent." In addition, its players were a part of the Music Clinic held last year at Lane High School, where, before two thousand music educators, Mr. Meltzer led the combined orchestras of Senn, Amundsen, and Sullivan. Sullivan has many contestants each year entered in the City Solo Contest.

The orchestra consists, at present, of forty players. The group practices every day during the third period, and is led by the capable and genial Mr. Meltzer. It plays at graduation exercises, P. T. A. meetings, and senior plays.

The swing band is a group of five students interested in popular dance music. They play at school dances and expect to play at the forthcoming Spanish Fiesta, at which event they also entertained last year.

BATON TWIRLERS

Lisberg, Deriger, Greenberg, Finkelstein, Steiner, Schoen, Wolf.

HERE COMES THAT BAND AGAIN!

There are fifty members in the combined beginners' and advanced groups of the Sullivan concert band. This is a smaller number than last year, but the hopes of the players have been raised as to the possession of some bright, spangled uniforms in which they may proudly parade across the football field.

Besides appearing at football games, the band is heard at pep meetings and assemblies.

Under the fine direction of Mr. Meltzer, the members of the band receive much enjoyment from their contacts with music. The band has learned almost thirty new pieces, including many American folk melodies.

A new and fast growing part of the band is the Twirlers. These are a group of drum majorettes who add color and zest to intermission activities of the football games. They are quickly acquiring skill in their work, and next fall Sullivan will have good cause to be proud of its Twirlers.

SCULPTURE CLUB

"A MODEL CLUB"

Under the guidance of one of Sullivan's art instructors, Mrs. Coral Kube, a small group of boys and girls are having a wonderful time watching their thoughts come into being.

Every member of this club expresses himself or herself by making clay models. Some do commercial designing, some do modern sculpturing, and others do realistic works of art. They all very carefully model their work. Infinite patience is required in this process but it is well rewarded by the fine results.

The club meets every two weeks in room 217 and is open to students of all classes. The officers are Belle Kaplan, president; Jane Winsberg, vice-president; Freida Kadet, secretary; and Dolores Bushnick, treasurer.

FLYING TIGERS

The Flying Tigers, formerly Sullivan's Model Airplane Club, was organized to further design and activity in model aeronautics. The members build both gas and rubber powered models and some members are now constructing models for Uncle Sam in the Industrial Arts laboratory.

Most of the planes are built of balsam wood with few hard wood or metal parts. The gas models range in size from eighteen inches to seven feet while the rubber powered models are comparatively smaller. The size and weight of the planes are governed by rules laid down by the National Aeronautical Association.

The Flying Tigers meet every Friday in Room 202 and are under the supervision of Miss Crannell and Mr. Golden.

VETERAN CLUB STILL GOING

The Franklin Club, an organization for students interested in printing, boasts of being the oldest club in Sullivan. It was founded by Mr. Rogers, in 1926. "Pop" is still the proud sponsor, and gives Sullivanites the opportunity for learning printing in relation to school and personal jobs. The club provides the school with neatly printed programs and tickets for its diversified activities.

Every semester the twenty hard-working Franklin followers are taken on conducted tours through printing plants and newspaper offices. The club meets bi-weekly on Wednesday in Room 126. August Valentino is president, Ed Endre is vice-president, the secretary is John Jung, and the treasurer is Sid Sholos.

KNIT ONE, PURL TWO

The group of young Sullivan women busily knitting and talking in Room 325 every Monday afternoon is not the women's weekly social gossip tea, but the Home Economics Club coming to the aid of the country with their domestic services. Under the direction and sponsorship of Miss Carpenter and Mrs. Ross the girls knit squares to be pieced together to make a soft, warm afghan. This work will be sent to the Red Cross.

While the girls are clicking away with their knitting needles, the officers discuss ways in which the group can render its best for the comfort of the soldiers.

Plans are made for the club's enlargement, its next knitting project, and a big party to top off a successful semester in helping the American Red Cross.

COMMERCIAL FACULTY

STANDING: Mrs. Mildred Walser, Mr. Herbert Hansen Jr., Mrs. Cora Spooner. SEATED: Mrs. Helen Kustner, Miss Helen Powers, Miss Fannie Kovitz, Mrs. Dorothy Huck, Miss Lillian Herman.

Now I must cut my fingernails! It is two years' growth, but it must go, for I can't parade through the halls like a Chinese maiden, so for the present I shall have to resort to my compass as a weapon of defense and sacrifice my painted claws.

You see, I'm registering for typing and shorthand, two of this school's most popular commercial subjects. I am also making another preparation: I'm starching and ironing my good white collar because I intend to use my knowledge of commercial law and commercial geography, in addition to bookkeeping, to secure a job in the business world.

Of course, I could use commercial law, commercial geography and careers as a social science sequence, too. That's just one of their advantages. Another is a knowledge of something more than you started out with. Perhaps that is a dubious privilege from one point of view, but then it does help you to graduate, a recognized blessing.

MASTERS OF THE KEYBOARD

If you need help in typing or if you just like to type for the fun of it, join the Type-o-Click Club. That's what it's for. The members can either do their regular typing lessons if they're behind in class work or take speed tests to increase their efficiency on the keyboard.

Sponsored by Mrs. Walser, the club meets every Thursday in Room 108. Presiding as chairman is Frances Wald, with Phyllis Riff as secretary, and Natalie Raymond, treasurer.

At times, the club takes a tour of some business office so they can see what some day they may have to do.

Besides being fun, the club affords its members a chance to become really skillful typists.

HELPFUL HANDS

If there is one subject in the curriculum that demands the application of the old adage, "One learns by doing," it is the Clerical Practice course. There is no science in the course —it is a matter of skill. It is doing the necessary thing with efficiency. It is the expert execution of the work of an office which includes assembling, distribution, and completion of the all absorbing detail. This group is directed by Miss Powers.

The mimeo service, directed by Miss Kovitz, is always on hand to cut stencils and run them off for any teacher who requests to have this done. The daily absence list is also prepared by this group.

THE COMMUNITY SERVICE LEAGUE

"As a consumer in the total defense of democracy, I will do my part to make my home, my community, my country ready, efficient, and strong."

This is the pledge of all members of Sullivan's Community Service League, which is under the auspices of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce. The members, led by Mrs. Gregg, also promise to buy carefully, to take care of the things they have, and to waste nothing. An important part of their work is the Clean-up Campaign, and the collecting of papers and metals.

Last semester the club presented a program in connection with their Clean-up work. The Community Service League stands true to its promises toward National Defense.

SAFETY—FIRST AND LAST

Those sixty-nine men and seventeen officers whose job it is to keep the students going the right way on the stairways and who take charge during the air-raids and fire drills are the members of the Safety Unit. This group was originally called the Fire Drill Patrol, but in 1940 the name was changed and more responsibilities were added. The boys now patrol the school for students who like to race around in cars disregarding the safety of others.

Mr. Alan C. Rogers has been the sponsor of the organization since it started. This year the student chief of the Safety Unit is David Dix who is assisted by a dozen other reliable lads.

ATHLETICS

Physical Education

"STRONG BODIES MAKE STRONG MINDS"

This proverb illustrates that the importance of physical education was never underestimated. Today, physical education has a recognized value in all walks of life and has proved to be of major importance to defense.

The teachers included in the staff of Sullivan's Gym Department are: Miss Mitchell, Miss McBryde, and Miss Gorman of the Girls' Division; and Mr. Margolis, Mr. Nemkoff, and Mr. Mishkin of the Boys' Division. This group formulates the physical program for Sullivan students and although their duties are varied and numerous they are efficiently handled by these instructors. Among their tasks are the supervision of swimming classes, health classes, extra-curricular activities, and school events, in addition to the regular physical education requirements. This staff forms the various competitive athletic teams and coach them to a high degree of perfection.

With the current demands for advancement in the physical education program, the importance of this training as a vital part of the school's curriculum is easily recognized.

TRUE BUDDIES ALWAYS

From the first day of the semester the G. A. A. is in the hearts of all girls who like good times. The first contact the freshmen girls had with Sullivan on the initial day of this semester was through the Girls' Athletic Association "Buddy Day." An upperclassman volunteered to escort a "Freshie" to her classes, adjust her to the quips and quirks of the corridors, and generally make her at home before the usual "Freshie Woes" begin. There was a jolly get-acquainted party in the gym afterwards. Just ask a female freshman where she would be now if it were not for her chivalrous G. A. A. Buddy.

The officers of the G. A. A. are: Alice Wright, president; Hannah Klein, vice-president; Betty Levy, secretary; Patricia O'Brien, treasurer. These officers also preside over the Council. The highest standard of leadership, dependability, scholarship, and athletic ability is maintained at all times.

Dances, parties, tournaments, play days, assemblies, and numerous other activities are planned by the Council for the whole G. A. A. The Council is composed of one member from each gym class who volunteers her time for the meetings twice a month. The Council promotes social activities between upper and lower classmen, thus removing the barrier between Suzy Senior and Frances Freshman. The Board consists of members with high scholastic standing and athletic ability, and is an honorary organization.

If you're wondering who the girl is who always blows the whistle just as your ball drops into the basket, she is really a Leader. She assists in directing one or two classes, besides her regular school work. This Leadership course takes two semesters and is under the supervision of Miss Mitchell. Miss McBryde, the devoted sponsor of the G. A. A., guides the girls to the ports of skill, friendship, and above all, sportsmanship.

A STROKE IN TIME

If there is a sudden decrease in drownings this summer, it will be due to the Red Cross Life Savers in training at Sullivan. This club meets every Tuesday afternoon to learn to prevent unnecessary trouble in the water. Under the supervision of Jeanne Salamon, a graduate of Sullivan and now a sophomore at Northwestern, the girls pass the Red Cross requirements for life saving.

The first four to receive their Junior Life Saving badges after two months of intensive training were Jean Fitzsimmons, Janith Turnbull, Mary Lou Hartshorn, and Hannah Klein. The instructor's motto is "It doesn't pay to take a chance," so our Sullivan girls are the ones who are preventing careless people from taking those chances and rescuing the fools who do.

"SET 'EM UP!"

If Mr. Van Winkle had known that the innocent game of ten-pins he rolled in the Catskill mountains was going to start Hazel Youngjohns to make an average of 158 in Rogers Park, I wonder if old Rip would have been so bold. Two score and eight girls send their balls a'rollin' down the Morse Bowling Alley every Thursday after school.

The Girls' Bowling Club, sponsored by Mr. Schneller, belongs to the National Bowling Society which presents awards to the three highest bowlers in Chicago. The club is divided into teams of four women each and we are proud to say that one team won first place in the City Tournament. Hazel Youngjohns is secretary of the organization and holds one of the highest averages in the city.

GOOD HORSEMANSHIP

Every Wednesday afternoon, rain or shine, a large group of Sullivan's females burning with impatience and enthusiasm start off to the Edgebrook stables where they will "ride 'em Cowboy." With the energetic Miss Colford at their head, the girls can enjoy this great American sport which was at one time reserved mainly for the men but is now a "must do" on practically every girl's calendar.

Exciting tales are brought back of how the advanced girls fearlessly ford a river at high tide. The fact that a girl's horse may slip while crossing the river only gives her another opportunity to display her skill in managing a horse. To prove that feminity and good riding can be mixed, the club plans an indoor rink review.

LUNCH GUARDS

The lunch guards, of the spring semester, headed by Mr. Jack Kahn, assist in enforcing the following new regulations:

1. Walk to the lunch room.
2. Deposit paper bags before sitting down.
3. Keep your places in line while waiting for service.
4. Place your trays and bottles on racks when through with them.
5. All papers and wrappings to be placed, not thrown in receptacles.
6. Aisles close four minutes before end of lunch.
7. Sit down at all times in lunch room.
8. Keep your lunch room neat and clean.
9. Talk in low tones only.

Basketball

Coached by Messrs. Nemkoff and Mishkin, the hard-fighting Sullivan cagers had an excellent season. The Juniors, Coach Nemkoff's charges, went into the city playoffs but suffered defeat in the semi-finals.

The Lights were captained by Marv Beskin, the leading high school scorer of all Chicagoland for the past season. His running mate at forward was Don Martin, one of the finest players in Bengal history. Other standouts were Bob Jennings, Hymie Friedman, Johnny Jung, and Huntley Rein with George Gordon and Paul Best in reserve.

The Juniors lost to Von Steuben but came back to beat Amundsen, Schurz, Lake View, Senn, and Steinmetz before losing to Waller. Against Taft the Cats went wild as Beskin scored 44 points. Roosevelt and Lane both succumbed to Tiger scoring power. After thus compiling 8 wins and 2 losses, the Lights lost to Crane in the semi-finals.

Captain Lum Shapiro led Coach Mishkin's Senior team. Shapiro's fine floor work and shooting eye made him a standout. Two stellar players who graduated at midseason were Gene Rankin and Jerry Ornstein. Other first stringers were lanky Fred Hankel, Milt Carmen, and Bill Farley.

The Heavies lost to Von Steuben, Amundsen, and Schurz before beating Lake View. Senn and Steinmetz set the Cats back but in the Waller tilt the Bengals scored 64 points. The season ended with a loss to Lane and two clean cut victories over Taft and Roosevelt.

BASKETBALL

The Sullivan gridders opened their 1941 season hoping to attain heights never before reached. To some extent they succeeded. The Bengals proved to be a fine defensive unit, they conquered Lane and Schurz for the first time, and showed well against all opposing teams.

Sullivan opened the season in a night tilt against Elkhart, Indiana, but was beaten by a more experienced squad. The first league game matched the Tigers against the 1940 North Section champs, Amundsen. This hard fought contest proved to be a heartbreaker, lost by a single point. The first win was scored the next Saturday in the Waller game. On a muddy field Taft held the cats to a scoreless tie. Against Schurz and Lake View, Sullivan raged to decisive wins and at tained some of the aforementioned heights. Lake View was the fourth consecutive opponent unable to score upon the Blue and Gold. A strong Roosevelt aggregation destroyed title chances for the Bengals by a lone touchdown in a hard fought battle. Opposing Senn, Sullivan held for three quarters but succumbed to a hard hitting attack. In the last game, played on a field of mud in freezing temperature, Sullivan regained prestige by trouncing Lane Tech.

Co-Captains Ed Smith and Ken Hawkins led Sullivan. Smith, an end, won All-Section honors, and Hawkins led the offense with his excellent running and kicking. Another All-North choice was guard Al Howe, a steady, aggressive player. Deserving of mention are fullbacks Harris Cohn and Bob Anderson. Speed and power aided Cohn in ripping lines open and gaining yardage. Anderson, alternating with Cohn, kept up the pace at full with his hard blocks and timely runs.

All due credit for Sullivan's fine squad goes to Coach Margolis and his assistant, Lennie Bach.

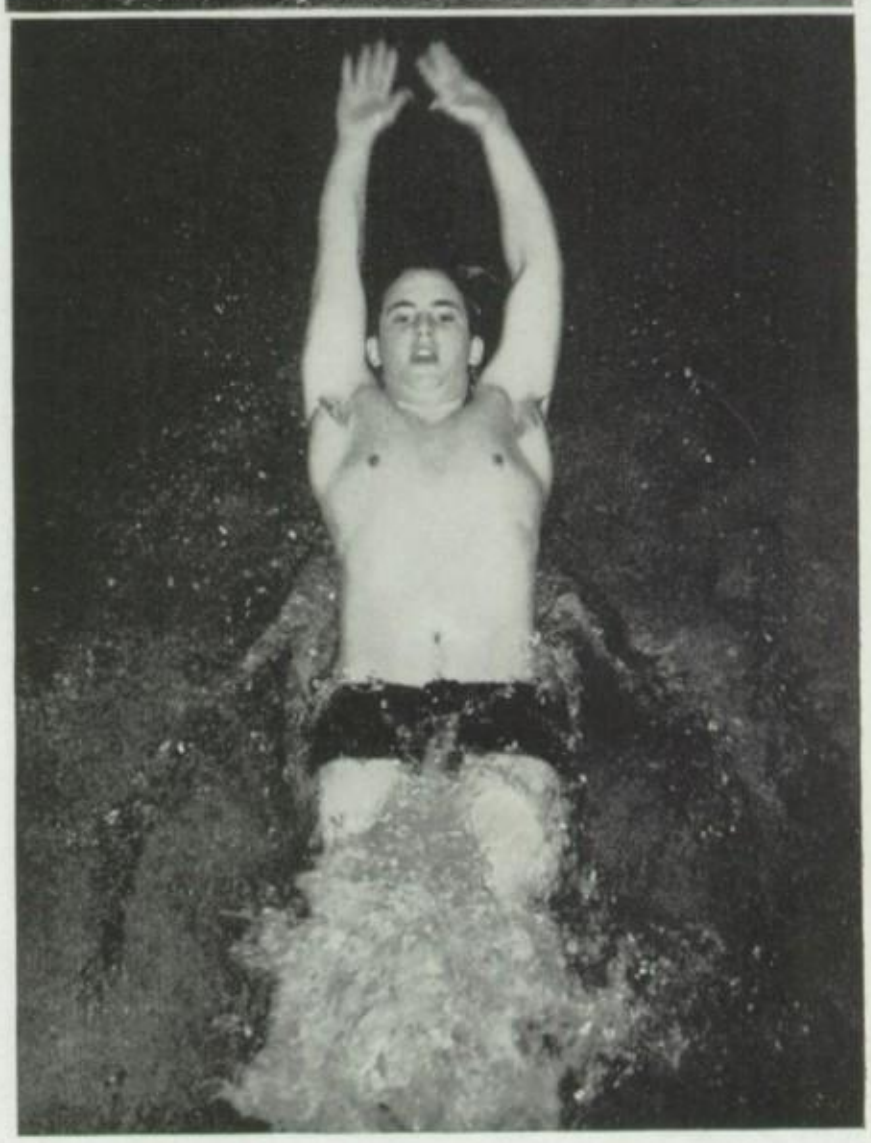
Swimming



DRIPS!

Splashing their way to success, the Sullivan swimming team closed the winter season rated as one of the finest in the city. Culminating the season by both placing third in the city meet last December, the Seniors and Juniors fulfilled the expectations of Coach Margolis. Both the Seniors and Juniors showed well against competition from other schools in dual meets during the past season and, of course, in the city finals last December.

The Seniors, led by Co-Captains George Rice and Bob Anderson, won third place laurels in two events. These Tiger points were captured by the medley and relay teams. The feature Senior mermen were Rice and Refakes in the backstroke, Anderson and Hibbs in the breaststroke, and in the crawl, Eicholtz, Barnes, Munzer, and Matthewson. In the dual meets the Senior team conquered Loyola, Senn, Wells, and Waller; Lake Forest giving the Bengals their only setback.

The Junior swimmers, captained by Al Klein, presented such men as Klein, Reed, Kirshenbaum, and Katz in the backstroke; Farrel, Holm, Bates, Wambold, Miller, and Monahan in the crawl; while Hibbs leads the breaststrokers. Klein took second in the city backstroke and the medley squad placed third. In dual meets Juniors beat Wells, Loyola, Waller and Taft; losing only to Senn.

Track

GO!

Sullivan's track team, which has become increasingly powerful in the past years, this season again justified its high expectations by finishing third in the senior and sixth in the junior divisions of the city Indoor Track Meet.

Captain Bill Billington was the big gun in the Senior's attack, garnering thirteen points by winning or placing in every event in which he entered. Billington hopped to a first in the triple broad jump and a second in both the high and low hurdles. Other point-getters were Ted Mummery, Ken Hawkins, and Moe Mizel. Mummery placed right behind Billington in the broad jump. Hawkins gathered five points by placing third in the low hurdles and fourth in the shot put. Mizel, running fourth in the 440, scored two points.

The Juniors, last year's indoor champs, were led by Bob Ruther, a tall, lanky speedster. Ruther, like Billington, placed in every event in which he entered. He scored his points by taking second in the triple broad jump and low hurdles, and fifth in the high jump. Martin Janice captured the only other point taken by the Juniors by placing fifth in the triple broad jump. The Junior relay team, after running most of its race in record time, was unfortunately disqualified.

Coach Margolis' teams, when considered together, scored thirty-four points to place second.

GOLF

Like the New York Yankees, the Sullivan Golf Team has won two straight championships. Also like the Yanks, they faltered in their quest for a third title, then recovered to forge spectacularly onward. However, they didn't regain stride quickly enough, and lost the chance to represent the north section in the play-off. An early loss, due to Captain Bob Sederburg's illness, and a technical ruling, dealt them a blow from which they failed to recover. Though Miller and Andersen, the other two regulars, golfed beautifully, Sullivan missed a plaque for the first time.

CHEER LEADERS

Led by Art Schwartz, Page Watson and Lorraine Racine, Sullivan Cheerleaders were a really potent weapon this year, and even succeeded in drawing a few weak cheers from the slender crowds that attended our sport events. With many youthful, energetic members, the team looks forward to a very bright future.

CHESS

Sullivan's Chess Team, like our golf squad, tried to capture its third straight city title, but unlike the other, it succeeded. With Captain Morris Mitchell leading the way, the team rode roughshod over all competition to recapture the section crown, and then went on to take the city championship.

SKATING

This year's city meet was a skating contest in name only. Though Chicago had a mild winter, the day of the meet was positively sultry. When the races took place, those who managed to maintain their balance were the winners. Unfortunately, Sullivan skaters neglected to train on a tight rope, and consequently failed to garner a single point.

ARCHERY

ROBIN HOOD?

Has it ever been your desire to be a Robin Hood? Perhaps you have a yearning to hold a bow and arrow firmly in your hands and aim at a distant target. If these last thoughts have been your ambitions you will be interested to learn that Sullivan has a fine archery club under the able sponsorship of Miss Jacobs. It is a very young club yet a very progressive one. Organized in September, nineteen-forty, the club has come a long way due to the efficiency of its president, Lenore Henry.

Informal tournaments are held every Tuesday in the girls' gym to help the competitive spirit keep alive. The official scorekeeper is the president.

If it is your wish to develop into a modern Robin Hood, attend the Archery Club every Tuesday in the girls' gym.

"KEEP 'EM FLYING"

"Keep 'Em Flying" may be the motto of many affiliated with our national defense, but it could also be tagged as a pep cry to all members of Sullivan's Badminton Club. Under the sponsorship of Miss Gorman and Miss McIlvain the members, numbering some thirty students, meet every Thursday after school in the girls' gym.

Two groups comprise this organization, the boys' and girls' division. The highlight of the activities is a competitive tournament between them.

The Badminton Club is a comparatively new organization here at Sullivan and has thus far met with much success. It is however, still open to new members, so won't you join us Thursday afternoon and help "Keep 'Em Flying?"

BADMINTON

FOIL AND MASK

STANDING: Stanton, Meyers, Richard, Nelson, Marsh, Dell, Cannidy, Visk, Sparks, Chayes, Miss Straka.

FOIL AND MASK

If, on a Tuesday afternoon after school you chance to meet fifteen boys running down the hall, pointing their foils at you, do not scream for help. They are members of the Foil and Mask Club practicing the ancient art of fencing. Their purpose is to simplify the details, employ the fundamentals of attack and defense, and learn the history of fencing.

Each member furnishes his own equipment, which consists of a mask and foil. Italian foils are used exclusively.

The one and one-half year old club meets bi-weekly on Tuesday, under the sponsorship of Miss Straka. Bill Stanton is president.

All able swordsmen are invited to join in and try their skill in this sport.

LETTERMEN

All Sullivan boys who have won letters, major or minor, are members of the Lettermen's Club. During the school year awards are presented in football, basketball, swimming, track, skating, golf, tennis, cheerleading, and chess.

The main functions of the club are to sponsor dances during the year at which letters are presented; to sell tickets for the dances and athletic events; and to be on duty at home basketball games.

Regarded as a highly influential organization in the school, the club works for better school spirit and to continue raising the athletic standards for which the cherished "S" stands.

PITY THE PINS!

Plunk! Strike! That's what the fellows dream about who belong to the Bowling Team. Even though there are sixty to seventy boys on the team and though it is one of the most popular clubs in Sullivan, everyone is welcome to join. There are twelve teams, five boys each, which compete with each other so as to keep up practice. From these teams comes the "deadliest eye," who plays other schools for the championship.

Sullivan is proud of its Bowling Team, so it gives to the highest scoring members, beautiful medals and letters. The team is doing splendidly but how can it help with a leader such as Mr. Schneller? He has been doing a grand job all four years of the club's existence.

BOXING

The Boxing Club, where one may acquire the manly art of self-defense, is comprised mostly of varsity athletes. Coach Margolis invites all Sullivan boys to join.

Boxing is carried on in Sullivan in the gym classes under the watchful eyes of mentors Margolis, Nemkoff, and Mishkin. In accordance with our national fitness program, all boys are encouraged to engage in sports designed to toughen their bodies and quicken their minds.

The physical education department realizes that athletics which stress individual skills, self-confidence, physical and mental alertness, and strong bodies are as valuable as those built around team play.

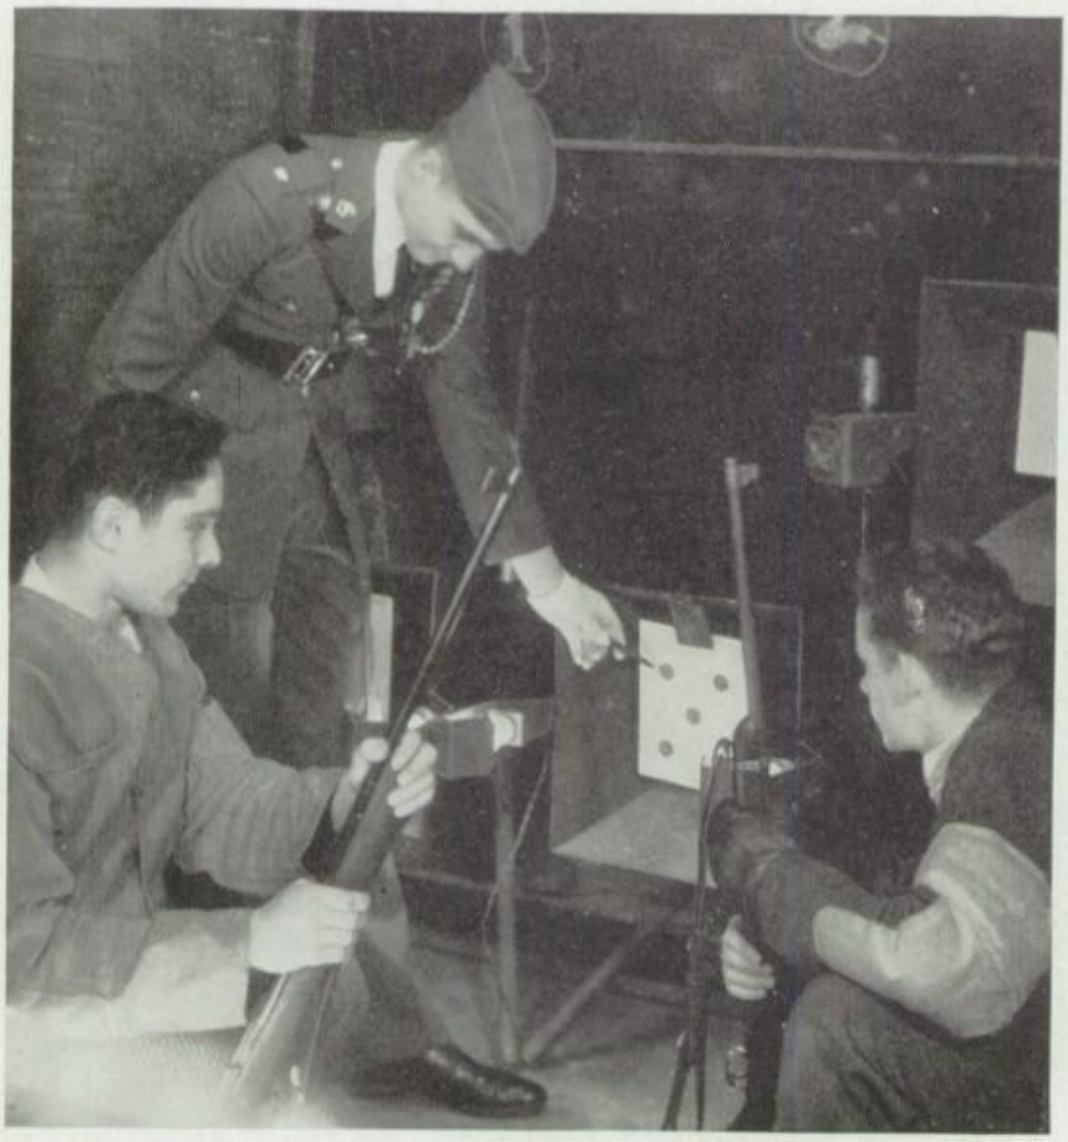
R.O.T.C.

Major Sidney S. Stocking congratulates Sergeant Anthony Gristhus.



Sullivan does it with a bang.

In these times of war, the R.O.T.C. an elective chosen by more boys every semester, becomes more important. Any boy electing it at Sullivan is sure of receiving basic military training at one of the finest junior units of the R.O.T.C. in the Sixth Corps Area, which includes Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin.

This high standing is shown by Sullivan's fine record. In 1938 the Crack Platoon won the city drill championship in the annual competition against the twenty-six other Chicago High School Units. In 1940, the Sullivan Crack Platoon won the Sixth Corps Area Drill Championship in the Junior Division, winning over some of the finest military schools and high schools in the Middle West. Then, last year, the Sullivan Rifle Team became City Rifle Marksmanship champions.

Credit should be given to Staff Sgt. Anthony Gristhus for this record.

BULL'S EYE!

This year, the Sullivan R. O. T. C. Rifle Team must defend the City Rifle Marksmanship Championship won last year when it fired the highest collective score ever fired in any of the Chicago High School rifle ranges. It has lost some of the high-scoring men who were on last year's outstanding team, by graduation; but there is a promising crop of young sharpshooters on this year's team.

It is the policy of the Military Instructor, Sergeant Anthony Gristhus, to allow any member of the R. O. T. C. to try out for the team, thus making it possible to discover cadets with ability early enough to enable them to fire on the team for several years. Cadet Sergeant Callner is captain of the team, and Cadet Sergeant Grosskruetz is co-captain.

HERE THEY COME— BOOM! BOOM!

The Sullivan R. O. T. C. Drum and Bugle Corps is one of the many reasons why the Sullivan R. O. T. C. Regiment always finishes so high in Federal Inspection and has so high a rating by the War Department. Without it, the Regiment's parades and inspections would not be so colorful, and the marching would not have the correct military air.

Though it has many new members this year, the Corps, under the able direction of Mr. Meltzer, shows promise of even bettering its past performances. The Corps is experimenting with fancy marching and drill designed to enhance its players.

Besides playing for the R. O. T. C., the Corps plays at neighborhood benefits and at numerous assemblies and programs.
